CIVIL LIBERTIES UNDER ATTACK

Traditional democratic freedoms are under attack by New Labour.
Using the excuse of the war on terror they have already:

Taken away the right to silence

Locked up 22 people in Belmarsh prison for 2 years who have not even been charged with anything.

Allowed British citizens to rot in a concentration camp in Guantanamo bay. The only American citizen captured in Afghanistan has been properly charged and tried in the American courts. But the British government agrees that the USA can treat British citizens worse than they treat Americans.

they are now planning to:

Take away your right to choose your own solicitor if arrested, they are saying that people they consider dangerous must use a solicitor appointed by the government

Take away our traditional right to peaceful demonstrations. This is crazy - but the New Civil Contingencies Bill will allow the police to decide what opinions you are allowed to feel strongly about!

In America where the PATRIOT act is already law - which the Civil Contingencies Bill is based upon - the government is making universities check which books students get out the Library - so they can identify troublemakers.

Bring in ID cars - which has nothing to do with fighting terrorism but will give the police an excuse to stop and question anyone at any time - which could be used to harass blacks, Asians and young people.
